

Happy Valley Tea & Tradition, One-Day & Multi-Day Tour

Visit the State College region for a wonderful combination of tea luncheon in a landmark setting plus other options to fill in a one-day or multi-day adventure. Located in the center of PA, you'll be visiting Happy Valley the nickname given to this region full of scenic mountains, Penn State University and a fun wine trail.

A highlight of the tour is a visit to the Nittany Lion Inn, an historic must-see, for a high tea where you'll be treated as finely as its previously guests which have included Eleanor Roosevelt, President Eisenhower, Robert Frost and Louis Armstrong. This site opened in 1931 and has been a premier site in the area ever since and is now on the Register of Historic Sites.

The Inn's tea is served as a buffet with a menu that varies per season and may include items such as ginger & wild rice salad in phyllo cups smoked salmon and egg salad double decker tea sandwich, tomato and mozzarella caprese cups with basil pesto, artichoke and spinach tea sandwich, assorted mini scones, palmiers, clotted cream, lemon curd and strawberry jam, plus assorted petite desserts and tea of course.

In addition to the tea you may choose a self-guided or guided tour of Penn State's H.O. Smith Botanic Gardens where you'll browse through the many gardens enjoying a variety of plants. The area is also home to our Nittany Wine Trail which includes three wineries and a distillery plus Tait Farms, a local company that reintroduced the Victorian favorite, the shrub, to modern day pallets. This site produces their own variety of jams, jellies, condiments and more which are great additions to any tea are complimented by home décor and goodies in its shoppe. Plus more options below!
